

CERTIFICATE OF RECOMMENDATION

This is to certify that Mr. Shlok Sathwara successfully completed his internship with Linde Engineering India Pvt. Ltd, serving as Team Lead for the redevelopment of our corporate web application.

He was entrusted with redesigning and modernizing a company website that had been in operation for over ten years, leading the project from planning through implementation and delivering a modern, responsive, and scalable solution that addressed the evolving needs of multiple departments — Administration, Information Technology, and Human Resources.

Throughout the internship, Shlok demonstrated strong technical knowledge, sound analytical thinking, and a proactive approach to solving complex challenges. He coordinated development activities, gathered and analyzed stakeholder requirements, proposed practical solutions, and ensured milestones were met without compromising quality.

He consistently showed professionalism, clear communication, and a strong sense of responsibility — qualities that mark him as a promising software professional.

Based on his performance, we highly recommend Mr. Shlok Sathwara for further studies, internships, and employment opportunities. We are confident he will bring the same dedication and excellence to any organization he joins, and we wish him continued success in his future endeavours.
